

INDIANA UNIVERSITY
MELVIN AND BREN SIMON CANCER CENTER

FUTURE SCIENTIST PROGRAM

This summer science Internship Program is open only to grade 11 students from the Indianapolis and Marion County Public Schools.

All students will be trained by MD and PhD research scientists in various oncology disciplines.

Students attend seminars and fun activities with university and medical students together with other high school programs.

Elmer Sanders

Program Coordinator
www.cancer.iu.edu/future
elsander@iu.edu
(317) 514-3212

Student and Parent Information Meeting:

10:00 a.m., Saturday, January 27 at the IUPUI Campus Center Auditorium

Register today at: FutureScientistProgram.org

Program Dates: June 11 - July 20, 2018

Eligibility: Grade 11 High School students from Indianapolis and Marion County Public Schools

Stipend: Students receive a $2000 stipend.

Apply Today: online at cancer.iu.edu/future

Application Deadline: February 9, 2018

Questions: Contact Shari Harrison - harrison.shari@gmail.com or phone (317) 332-7326

For more information about the Future Scientist Program go to FutureScientistProgram.org

IU Simon Cancer Center 2017 Future Scientist Program students and directors at the IU School of Medicine Atrium annual poster session. FSP is committed to searching for available opportunities for all 2018 applicants.